"Becky is an incredible person. Everyone always says, 'If you don't know, go ask Becky!' As a Freshman I wondered how she put up with all of our questions and complaints. But I have learned over the past 3 years that she has an inner strength and a genuine love for Salem and all of her students. This is what keeps her smiling - even in the middle of roomdraw!"

-- Tara Newton
Senior

It's hard to express how we feel about someone so close to our hearts who has been so helpful and supportive of us and has become a constant and reassuring figure at Salem.

There's no way to list the many hats she has worn in Lehman Hall or to tell her how much we appreciate her wearing every one, her every service, and her every smile.

It may be impossible to thank her for the years of devotion, assistance, and love that she has given to Salem College, yet with this book we begin to repay our debt.

The Class of 1992 and the staff of Sights & Insights, in dedicating this volume to her, recognizes and gives thanks for the gifts and love of Becky Pack-Moxley, our friend and ally.

DEDICATION

1992: The best year yet

New administration and increased student involvement mean
the best gets better

New beginnings have an impact we can sense immediately. Optimism, enthusiasm, and hope can become tangible as promises become reality. 1992 was a year of realization for Salem College. Change, growth and an unbeatable trio of administrators have given us a better Salem, from top to bottom. So let's

Take it from the TOP

From Top Enforcer... to Head Server, Debbie does her part to make this Senior function go smoothly.

Top o' the line Seniors... in Sisters show off their -gulp- caps and gowns.

Taming the rapids on top of Old Smoky... Amy, Lynn, and Ann flash hopeful grins before a rafting trip

Salem's top administrator... Dr. Thrift, our new President, speaks to the student body at Opening Convocation.

Tops in our book... New Dean of Students Dr. Farris hands down some vital info during Freshman Orientation.

Budding friendships... Freshmen hallmates Helaine, Andrea, and Wendy socialize at the Lawn Party.

Sisterhood...

It's a word we throw around quite a bit at Salem, but somehow it has never seemed overused. We feel it at special times like convocations, dances, and mixers... it's there at Fall Fest and Sophomore-Senior... we rejoice in it at graduation.

But even more, we feel it almost daily during the most common events. It's a reassuring, comforting feeling of belonging. The knowledge that we are loved and respected by friends and peers. It's that "special something" that only Salem can offer.

Walkin' buddies... Kristen and Hanan enjoy each other's company during a trek to the P.O.

Organized for Sisterhood... Rachel, Sonya, and Dawn, representing Onua at Club Day, share smiles and laughter.

Still hanging tight as Juniors...Charla, Allison, and Leigh get together for a Fall Fest huddle.

Best friends and roomies...Jenny and Michelle, together for the fourth year, give us a grin at the Fall Lawn Party.

Sisters in Sisters...Katherine and Cathi are happy to be together in #5.

Pumpin' out the spirit... Freshman Fall Fester Heather gives her all to the relay.

Already on the phone... Eve takes care of some important business.

Buzzin' around the Fall Lawn Party... Val and Jeni enjoy the privileges of Seniority.

"You said I didn't have to wear a tie!" Nancy adjusts her neckline at the first Senior Keg Party.

"Yep. We're the Juniors you've been warned about!" Anita and Laura don't look too concerned about their infamy.

STUDENT LIFE

Four dance weekends and extended visitation hours...

With more opportunities for fun than ever, we're looking at one great year of parties, dances, and special days. Life on campus and beyond improves with the new RHA, expanded visitation privileges, and construction of a Student Center that's sure to open up a world of new possibilities for Salem. What more could we ask for?

HMM, HMM GOOD! Top Sasha and Nishadi show their appreciation for the ARA Food Service

Meetings, Meetings, and More Meetings! Jennifer, Mary and Cary are off to one more of those Orientation gatherings

Whew! Are you as tired as I am? Ana and Michelle take a break after finally getting their carpeting down.

SALEM...JUST DO IT!

This year's Orientation team, led by Steffan Hambright, stressed to the incoming students the importance of getting involved. The purpose of Orientation is to familiarize Freshmen and transfer students with life at Salem. New students were introduced to residence life, registration, SGA, the Honor Code, new friendships and much, much more!

Planning for Orientation began last spring, and the student Orientation Committee returned a week early for leadership training that included a challenging ropes course, discussion, role play, and goal-planning skills.

By August 24 all the Orientation leaders were eager to welcome their new sisters and tell them to "Just Do It!"

EAGER BEAVERS... Mandy and P.J. show their readiness to start moving in all the belongings of the new Babcock Bunch.

WELCOME
TO SALEM COLLEGE

What goes on at Salem? Sarah and her parents check out the "This Week at Salem" newsletter to get the scoop.

Anxieties?? Meredith, Lisa, and their mothers show mixed emotions as a year of new experiences approaches faster than they imagined.

The beginning of a great year...

On August 28, Salemites new and old met in Hanes Auditorium for Opening Convocation. After the traditional procession of the Senior class, students were formally introduced to Salem's first woman president in its 220-year history, Dr. Julianne Still Thrift. Angie Shotts, our SGA president, introduced a fun and exciting analogy of Salem as an amusement park. The ceremony brought the classes together as we began a new candle-lighting tradition. Leaving Convocation after the singing of the alma mater, everyone prepared to find their favorite "rides" at Salem in the upcoming year!

Mingyu, Brook, Stephanie, and Nell wait with smiles for Convocation to begin.

Amy is excited, but a little apprehensive, about the dawning of her Senior year

Here, two of the mighty trio - Dean Allen and President Thrift - share optimism for the new year

OPENING CONVOCATION

Dr. Burkette shares words of wisdom with the student body.

Angie and Valerie begin a new tradition by lighting candles and sharing the flame with class members.

Geoff Bates chats about the changes at Salem from May to August.

Marshalls Nancy and Rita prepare candles for the introduction of a new tradition.

Fall Fest 1991

Angie and Michelle reminisce about past Fall Fests.

This year, Sister classes were invited to enter the Stone Age with the Flintstones and cruise the Galaxies with the Jetsons. Fall Fest gave students a chance to indulge in their childhood cartoon fantasies. The Juniors and the Freshman played the Jetsons, while the Seniors and the Sophomores played the Flintstones. Salemites had Fall Fest committee members Hillary Black, Laura Franklin, Amanda Long, Arden Ney, Gracen Glenn, and Jennifer Kintz to thank for making this day so special and exciting.... Yabba, dabba, whatever makes you happy!

Nina, Allison, and Gretchen pose as Stone Age babes!

Rockin' in the Stone Age

Ask Stacy for advice - and she will deliver!

Beth and Amy take time to say "Dino."

Amanda shows that the Jetson anti-wrinkle cream works wonders for her complexion.

Dr. Pate, Dr. Partin, and Geoff Bates jam with the Stones!

Female wrestling in Salem Square... Go Betsy - Go Margaret!

...AND ZOOMIN' WITH THE JETSONS

Happy Fall Fest... The gang in Sisters shares a worm wish with Gayden and Allyson's banner.

"We love Fall Fest!" Above, Yoko, Wendy, and Tara make no bones about it

And she noses across the finish line! Paige finally gets her egg to its destination

"Memories"... The Seniors croon a medley of past Fall Fest songs.

Those rowdy Juniors...cuddle up and smile at the finish line in Salem Square.

"Somebody bring me some water!" Hester is gettin' serious about her part of the race.

Maybe she slurped up more than she can chew... Dawn downs cream pie for the Seniors and Sophomores Reinventing the wheel...Sophomores and Seniors open the day with a parade.

"You're the one that I want!" Laura and Laura can't seem to get away from their Grease-y pasts

FRESHMAN MIXER AND SENIOR KEG PARTY

GET THE YEAR

Ah, no pictures! Jennie is not at all excited about being photographed

Isn't this fun, ladies? Debbie Cates, Dean of Fun, teaches some of our RHDs, Melissa, Laura, Lee, and Shirley, to smile.

Cheese! Allyson, Gayden and Debbie are excited about their senior year.

Hey, don't do that! Laura does not enjoy being tickled

OFF TO A GREAT START

For Seniors the Keg Party was an opportunity to gather on Clewell Patio to break-in their Senior year. "The keg party was kind of a realization of where we were in time," said Latanya Gary. "We had just had Opening Convocation, and at that moment we knew we were it--WE WERE THE SENIOR CLASS!"

The Freshman Mixer gave newcomers a chance to unwind after Orientation week. Freshman Amy White noted, "The mixer was great because I had a chance to relax before my first official day of college."

Oh yeah! This is the life! Squeezed between two men, Allison is having a good time at the mixer.

Come on in! Christiane waits in her room for the evening's fun to begin.

Welcome to Salem! Melissa, Tara and Amy welcome transfer student Recia to Salem's party life.

Paint the town

R E D

"What do you think, guys?" Heather shows how happy she is that her date made it to the dance.

Hi, snookums! CAC chairman Anita takes time out from her duties to cuddle with Ethon.

Is everything O.K. here? Kelly lets loose while still keeping things under control.

Painting the town red is exactly what some social Salemites and their dates did at the first official gathering of the year. The weekend began on Friday night with dorm parties and this year's first male visitation overnight. On Saturday night everyone gathered in the Refectory for a good time jamming to the tunes of The Wild Men From Borneo. Sunday concluded the weekend festivities with relaxing guitar music from Chris Brady on sunny Clewell Patio.

Hey, free food! This gentleman decides that dinner just wasn't enough to keep him going.

Startin' the year off right... Tammy and her date experience Salem's social life at the first dance of the year.

Are we having fun yet? Eloyne and Stephanie party it up with their Kappa Sigma men before they head to the dance.

Barefoot and proud of it! Chris Brady entertains Salemites and their guests with "Salem College in my mind."

Are you camera shy or is it just love? Tara seems a little more goofy than usual around her date.

SCARY BOO!

Halloween this year was better than ever. Students enjoyed decorating their halls and dorm rooms to get the Halloween spirit started. Circle K sponsored their annual Trick-or-Treating extravaganza for local children and Halloween dinner hit the spot with junkfood galore! October at Salem proved to be as scary and exciting as ever.

Laura Beth digs in to help her "Sisters" carve their pumpkin.

Tara and Melissa attend a Wesley party as scrumptious Crayola colors. Winter White and Majestic Midnight Black.

The grim reaper (Susan Cachran) stalks the Refectory and finds a defenseless clown named Noamina.

IT'S HALLOWEEN AGAIN!

Kate looks pretty neat - is that 1000 Arabian Nights or what?

Amy, Nancy, Candy, and Heather pose before going to a Halloween bash at Wake.

Karrie, P.J., Nell, Terri, Paula, and Alecia - a matley crew to be sure - are all decked out for the costume contest.

FAMILY WEEKEND

This year's Family Weekend was highlighted by the Friday night Sock-Hop in the Refectory, Saturday tours of the new and improved Student Commons, and

Saturday night's Salem Showcase. Students and their parents had the opportunity to dine and converse with faculty and administration and to catch up on the latest news. Now our folks know, too -- Salem just keeps getting better!

Heather's parents just brought her three winters' supply of cold-weather clothes from home!

Karen and her mom are such great models (like mother, like daughter, y' know?).

Alice and her father enjoy casual conversation in the Refectory over a typical Salem lunch.

Dean Farris and Angie and her dad share excitement over the Student Commons.

Janet shows off her parents outside the Refectory.

Hey, Heather, is that REALLY your mom?

She is the proud daughter of two beaming parents.

Shake Your Bootie

The Interclub weekend, "Shake Your Bootie," kicked off on November 15th. Disco Funk night was a welcome surprise. It was definitely entertaining to see everyone as we would have looked if Stayin' Alive had been our class song.

After recovering from those 25 cents drafts, off to the Twin City Club we went. The "Shake Your Bootie" semi-formal was a smash! The Mighty Majors performed from 9:00 pm to 1:00am - way past our bed times!

By Sunday everyone needed a little R&R before classes again on Monday. Thankfully, it was nice enough outside that Mike Rayburn could play his tunes on Clewell Patio.

"Shake Your Bootie" - now that's what I call a successful weekend!

Picture time! Jenny and Palmer find a great excuse to cuddle up to their dates.

Hmm!... Cute date Gretchen. Where did you find him?

"Y-M-C-A..." Elayne, Kelly, Dena, and Michelle are going to Funky Town.

Electric Slide - or Bus Stop? Far left, Paige, Laura, and other party-goers find that the 70's party has confused them a little.

Whew! Dawn is "Shakin her Bootie". Bust a move, girl!

The winners of the costume contest. Mary Lawson are you sure you weren't a teen in the '70's? Gold is your color!

It's my grandmother's curtains! No, it's just Charlie's Angles. Where did you get your groovy outfits, Margret, Beth, Amy, Gretchen (?), Jenny and Rebecca?

Salem's Christmas... Just Like Home

Don't forget me! Elayne hangs on to Anita as she celebrates her last Salem Christmas.

Are we talented or what? Kristen and Hanan chuckle at their creative abilities to make Moravian candles.

May be messy, but we love it! Dana, Carolyn and Hannah enjoy smores at the bonfire.

Marshmallows roasting on an open fire... Students face the heat as their marshmallows turn a golden brown.

"Make a light bulb!!" Crissy and Dean Farris are natural back up vocalists.

Nothing to it! Seniors Banner and Michelle put the finishing touches on their candles Santa's Elves? Are Jennifer and Tara helping Santa or are they elf wanna-be's?

Christmas at Salem is a time for students to celebrate with their family away from home. The Salem family gathers together to share Christmas dinner and sing yuletide carols around the Christmas tree on Clewell patio.

Senior candle trimming, the Christmas concert, candle tea and the bonfire with Santa are just a few of the events that bring the Salem family good cheer during the holidays.

"Money, Money!" Stacy and her date count their chips at Casino Night.

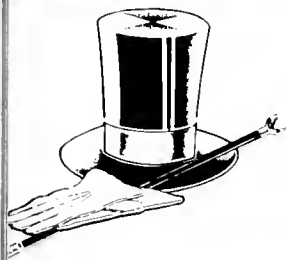

"We'll live on love!" Drewry doesn't seem too upset over her date's losses.

The first of many... Dr. Thrift and her husband enjoy their first Winter Formal at Salem.

Winter Formal Glamour and Gamblin' The Great Gatsby

Glitz and chips... poker faces and bow ties... top hats and Snake eyes... This year's Winter Formal, held in the newly - renovated Salem Commons, had all the glamour and excitement of Las Vegas and the 1920's. The Great Gatsby Weekend offered Casino Night in the Grille Friday night, the Formal in the Great Hall Saturday night, and Harrison and McClure in the Lounge Sunday afternoon.

"Place your bets!" Coach McEwen discovers a new way to get hearts a - beating: Black Jack!

Cocktail, darling? Jannie Mac and her beau live it up at Bittling's Senior Cocktail Party before the formal.

Getting a degree in Mixology... Stephanie practices scooping out Jell-o at the Sisters Shooter Party Friday night.

great tookin' group... CE's such as Sue and Debra brought their husbands to the Bittling Cocktail Party, where they joined up with their classmate, Liz, and her date.

Home alone, ladies? Above, Palmer, Jenny, Laura, Beth, and Paige are a bit overwhelmed by dorm life.

Might as well get comfy! Mara settles in for the long night ahead.

Welcome to my humble abode... Julie greets her visitors with a smile.

...to protect those pearly whites! Anne enjoys the luxury of having a sink right in her room.

Watch out she's got a knife!! These South women, Naomina and Barbara, proved to be slightly crazed when carving their pumpkin.

A PLACE TO CALL HOME

At the beginning of the year we all walked into our new rooms with a bit of excitement. We looked beyond the icy, impersonal, white walls and bare floors to see a realm of possibilities. It became a challenge to create a room even better than our last one.

We lugged furniture out into the already blocked halls in order to get at those killer dust elephants and throw that carpet down. Next we laboriously hauled some of the furniture back in and the rest to the attic. After rearranging these incredibly heavy items at least one hundred and one times, we finally felt that our rooms were coming together.

Then it was time for the unpacking of our belongings and the addition of a few personal items. We brought out pictures, posters, stuffed animals, and all of the little necessities of life. We decorated the walls, the furniture, and even the ceilings in some cases! We now had our personalized spaces. These once-bare rooms finally became a place to call home when the refrigerator was on and the telephone was ringing!

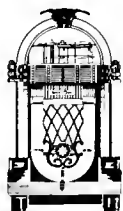

Pflooey! Karen shows her exasperation about the uncontrollable sauna-like conditions of Sisters, but confesses that she loves her historic home nonetheless.

Yum, Yum....We can't tell if Heather enjoys Corbin's beers or "buds" more!

"See the birdie?" Jill makes sure Anita smiles for the camera while they party on.

Salem Students Hit the BEST SPOTS IN TOWN

Corbin's...Ziggy's...Baity's...Parties...Fun
Wherever the action was in '92, Salemites were there to join in. Night life gave us the chance to let our hair down, kick our shoes off, and live it up. After all, don't they say these are the best years of our lives?

"Aw, I didn't think you were REALLY going to take that..." Signe and friend are good-natured as the flash interrupts their evening of fun.

"We salute night life!" Gretchen and Drewry prepare for an evening of...serving their countries?

Out and about and lovin' it...Ellen and Francis look like they're having the time of their lives.

Road Trips give us...

SOCIAL LIFE BEYOND SALEM

One thing that many Salemites really like to do is get away every now and then when those antique-white walls start to close in and wander-lust takes over. Students "road trip" far and near to see friends and family, renew old acquaintances, and see the sights of the Southeast and beyond. This year's destinations have included Michigan State, Charleston, Duke, Pennsylvania, Georgia, W & L, the Blue Ridge Parkway, and more. So if things just aren't happening around Winston, you can bet Salemites are out searching for the action. Catch 'em if you can!

Together...Kelly, Tracy, Elayne and Michelle engage in pre-party festivities before heading to the Sigma Chi house at N.C. State.

Friendship extends further than Salem College...Heather spends the weekend with her best friend at Michigan State.

Hey guys, check it out! Dena and Margaret decide that the only way to celebrate a 21st birthday is to drive around in luxury.

Car sick, or just sickening? Kendra shares her lunch with fellow (unwary) road-trippers on the way to Pennsylvania.

"Over the river and through the woods..." International Club members enjoy the fall colors during their excursion to the Blue Ridge Mountains.

I'm so loved! Sarah enjoys sharing good times with her close friend at Duke's homecoming.

Funny Faces, Peculiar Places, and Amusing Moments at Salem College

"Did you hear about the time she...?" Embarrassing moments are as much a part of our lives as homework, bad food, and (obnoxious) Wake guys. And isn't it always our luck when some smart aleck friend is there with a camera, just waiting to capture forever that priceless -- and utterly humiliating -- moment? Here's to these brave Salemites who shared their embarrassing moments with us (and EVERYBODY else!).

Rebecca dresses up to impress her favorite wrestling stars.

Brigid wants to know, "Where's Waldo?"

Anna, how many licks does it take?

JUNIORS JOURNEY ABROAD

Bon appetit! It takes a lot of skill to master fine cuisine, Paige learns as she attends a cooking school in Connes, France.

Hooray for sunny days! Cathi takes time to catch some rays while stopping at the Bois de Boulogne in Paris.

Does he bite? Betsy decides to live dangerously during her stay in Equador.

Check out the view! While touring in London, Allyson stops to view the first drawbridge in the Lake District.

Caught between Joaquin and Jose Ramon... Liz enjoys her last night in Sevilla, Spain.

Every year Salem students have the opportunity to experience a culture different from their own. For a semester or an entire year, Salemites journey abroad to expand their college experiences even further. They study the language, the history, the lifestyles, and the culture of their host country. When asked, most said they would go again in a heartbeat!

Family and friends... just another special moment to add to her stay abroad. Signe enjoys the social scene at McDonagh's Pub with her Irish host family.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS BRING

Salem College is committed to bringing the world a little closer. Each year students from around the world bring new cultures and ideas to the existing ones. This year five new students from across the seas have joined the Salem family.

TaoTao, from Shanghai, keeps busy with her classes and work study. She comments that the United States is not what she expected, but she loves being here. Special to her are her Gramley hallmates, like Charlie.

Kathy Wu, from China, spends most of her time doing workstudy and homework, but in her free time you may catch her in the line at the Dell bar. Kathy says that she loves American ham sandwiches.

Suma Raju, from New Dell, India, was Vice Head Girl of Student Government at her high school of over 4,000 students. She enjoys Salem because "the students and professors are very friendly."

THE WORLD TO OUR DOORSTEP

Yoko Ebihara, from Japan, transferred from Obirin College where she was a junior. She is studying art of Japan to see how Americans view Japan. Yoko is also a starter on the volleyball team.

Nashadi Thrikawala, from Sri Lanka, earned honors at Musaeus College before coming to Salem. She especially likes American men.

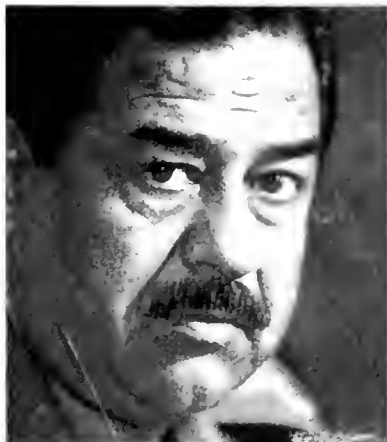

Tian-ang Dai, from China, has enjoyed her first taste of American culture...even if the pumpkin was a little squishy!

It was the best of times.

The domino effect continued as Communism collapsed. Yugoslavia became engulfed in civil war, while the Baltic Republics finally achieved independence. The most dramatic sign of the approaching end of an era was the failed Soviet hardline cronies coup d'état. Below, nearly deposed Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev and his family disembark in Moscow after their days of imprisonment.

After months of monopolizing the front page Saddam's face was rarely seen by the West, but the aftermath of his destruction still made headlines.

Elizabeth Taylor married hubby number nine this year - and it wasn't Malcolm or George!

It was the worst of times.

This year was full of excitement. Some of the highlights included:

- Jimmy Swaggert was caught once again with his knickers in a knot.
- After five years of silence Ollie was willing to tell the truth.
- The Braves gave it their all, but the Twins walked away the winners in the World Series.
- John McCarthy's release renewed everyone's hopes that other Middle East hostages would also be freed. (His was soon followed by the release of Thomas Sutherland and Terry Waite.)
- The Arab nations finally agreed to peace talks with Israel over the Palestinian issue.

In September, AIDS patient Kimberly Bergalis made a moving speech to Congress regarding the urgent need for more AIDS research. In November came the announcement that basketball's Ervin "Magic" Johnson is HIV positive and that Queen's Freddy Mercury had died of an AIDS-related illness.

America watched intently as newly nominated Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas battled accusations of sexual harrassment by Anita Hill.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

This year Winston-Salem and surrounding areas were full of exciting events, ranging from the political to the entertaining. The Blanche Taylor Moore arsenic trials, the merger of Wachovia and Southern National Banks, the Dixie Classic Fair (and their misspelled banner!), the apparent disappearance of Michael Hayes from his ward at Dorothea Dix Mental Hospital, the Winston-Salem Sister City Project, and the rise in campus crime at Wake Forest were just a few of the 1991 Winston-Salem headlines.

Even our campus saw quite a few significant events. This was the first year in Salem's history that we've had a female president. In addition, the Salem Community eagerly awaited the completion of our new Student Commons. We were all surprised by the changes in food since the Refectory's switch to ARA Food Service. The Physical Plant, now completely under the management of Service Master, worked even harder to keep our campus spiffy.

Service Master's declaration of war against roaches was part of the new management's plans for a better Physical Plant.

Dr. Thrift is a new - and welcome - part of the Salem Community. Her plans for our beloved college came as music to our ears.

Heather, Mayor Woody and assistant look over the proposal for the Winston-Salem Sister City Program.

At left, the construction crew works harder and harder to meet the completion date of the new Student Commons.

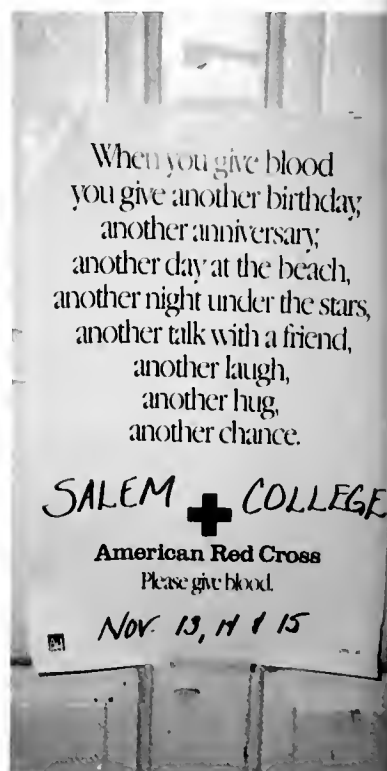

Heather and Brigid got all dressed up for the Rod Stewart concert in Greensboro, but the concert had to be canceled because of laryngitis.

Sister City Program

Mayor Martha Woody is organizing a Sister City Program for Winston-Salem. The program involves adopting a foreign city which shares a similar background. "Having a Sister City Program is a good way to bring economic opportunity as well as global understanding through a mutual exchange within an international city," said Salem junior Heather Rankin. Heather helped organize this program as part of her fall internship in Political Service.

A young trick-or-treater tries desperately to bob for an apple successfully at the Halloween party for the Children's Home.

Each year Mortar Board sponsors a blood drive to help the American Red Cross.

DEDICATED TO SERVICE

Salem students were ready and willing to dedicate themselves to leadership and service this year.

In August campus leaders gathered for the PICA Leadership Conference and spent the week planning, sharing, and growing. They devoted themselves to new programming to improve life at Salem.

Circle K served the community by sponsoring trick-or-treating for the Children's Home and a canned food drive which benefited local needy families.

Helping others was also the concern of other Salemites. One group visited elderly adults in retirement homes through the new Adopt-a-Home program. Mortar Board once again sponsored a blood drive through the Red Cross.

A new organization this year, CREAP (Committee for Rape Education, Awareness, and Prevention), sponsored a rape lecture series on such topics as "Sexual Myths" and "Male Privilege." Their goal was to make students more aware of the danger that surrounds them.

Thanksgiving Circle K collected canned goods throughout the dorms to aid the hungry.

Oh, that's a great role model! Debbie Cates can't contain her enthusiasm - or her food - over the PICA gang's trip to the bowling alley.

Pierrette Productions

This year was exciting and successful for the Pierrettes. The wonderful talent of these Salem women was seen in two features this year. Three by Chekov was performed during Fall Family Weekend and Side By Side by Sondheim was given in the Spring.

Senior Juliet Dyal has been an active member of the Pierrettes for four years. She has been in the Fall play every year and this year served as Pierrette President.

4) The Sphere of Knowledge is identified... Aesthetics student Heather proves that truth is found within the contours of the hour-glass, although later it is shown that others can learn with proper guidance.

STORY of KNOWLEDGE

5) The Needle of Knowledge is developed... Tri-Beta member Laura tests the new Inject-a-ject, which takes osmosis one step further and improves the GPAs of all students who formerly relied on late-night "ramming."

6) The Recipe for Knowledge is discovered...Who would've thought it was in the Gourmet Casserole? Sarah scribbles down the list of ingredients as other students start on seconds.

7) The Pool of Knowledge clears...

Jane is dumbfounded as the goldfish spell out the answer to her question about the meaning of life: "Garlic."

"I think it just winked at me!" Microscope use causes paranoid delusions in Labling members, Candy discovers.

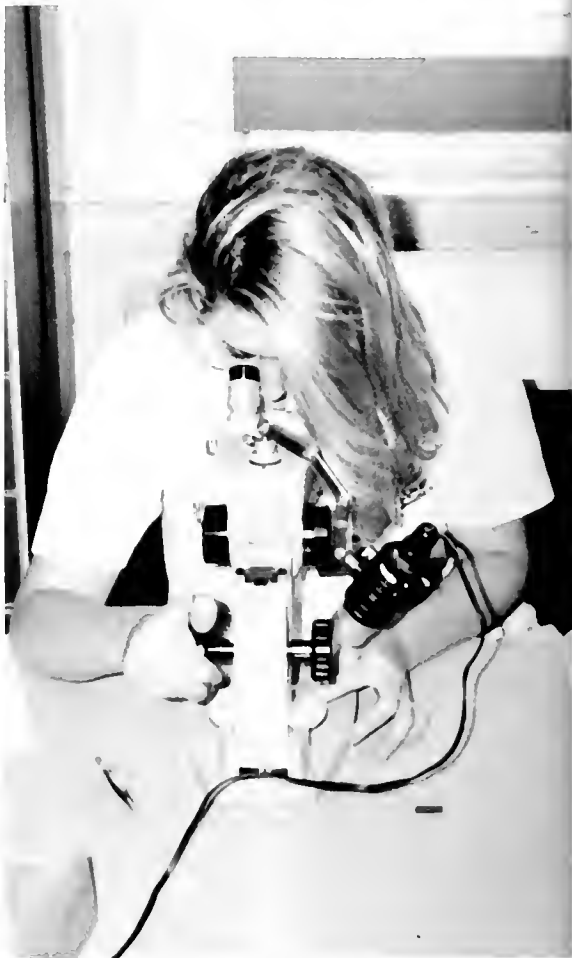

Marshalling Opening Convocation... Lori hurries to pass out programs to anxious seniors.

Putting it into practice

These three organizations - the Student National Education Association, the Marshalls, and Lablings - are putting academics to good use. The Comenius Chapter of SNEA, made up of the fall semester student teachers, provided ideas and professional support for these hard-working future educators.

The Marshalls, recognized for the highest GPAs at the end of their sophomore years, assist with SGA meetings and formal commencements. Lablings, more than just science geeks, planned fun and informative programs and field trips, such as the fall trip to the planetarium.

Yo, Miss Lewis!" Student teaching provided Karen, second from the left, with the chance to gain experience - and make some friends too!

The Lablings include...front: Meredith Snellings, Hester Haverkamp; middle: Nell Nordin, Latanya Gary, Key Whaley, Rachel Miller, Dawn Darby; back: Chenie Bell, Karrie Stansfield, Jenniler King and Dr. McKnight (Advisor).

Outstanding in their Fields

These National Honor Societies recognize students for exceptional merit in several specific fields. Pi Gamma Mu honors students for excellence in the Social Sciences. Phi Alpha Theta recognizes students with a high average in their History classes. Mortar Board, an honor society for seniors, is active in community service, providing such services as the Blood Drives and the annual Clewell Patio Christmas tree. The Salem Honor Society is comprised of Salemites whose GPAs of 3.6 or higher put them on the Dean's List.

"We're official now!!" New Phi Alpha Theta members and their advisors smile after their November induction ceremony.

Pi Gamma Mu members include...Shelly Williams, Dr. Pubantz and Katherine Garner.

Phi Alpha Theta Includes... Dr. Byers, Laura Pezowicz, Valerie Wickersham, and Shelly Williams. Not pictured: Monica Shaffer (Pres), Jeanette Simmons, and Linda Fatale.

Strap her In! Anna helps out at the Blood Drive sponsored by Mortar Board by taking each donor's blood pressure.

Q"

Being a member of an accredited honor society at Salem has provided a great deal of academic encouragement through both regional and national chapters. Pi Gamma Mu, an international honor society for social sciences, has promoted ongoing achievement within my Economics/International Relations major, and it continues to motivate students towards higher academia through dedicated scholarship.

— Shelly Williams, Class of 1992

Student Excellence at its Best

Omicron Delta Kappa promotes and recognizes academic excellence, public service, spirituality, and team sportsmanship.

Tri-Beta is the honor society dedicated to the promotion of the biological sciences. Among their activities was a fundraising car wash.

Alpha Psi Omega recognizes students and other individuals on campus dedicated to the theater arts.

Getting pinned... Sarah helps ODK inductee Dristen put on her new pin.

Tri-Beta members are: Row 1: Laura Neese, Nancy Georgitis, Chenie Bell. Row 2: Rachel Miller, Rita Herring, Andrea Rossi, Charla Vlaservich, Latanya Gary. Row 3: Tara Newton, Karrie Stansfield, Nell Nordin, Elizabeth Butler, Kendra Jones, Betsy Brown, Jane Fisher, Hester Haverkamp. Row 4: Heather Carlin, Dr. Nohlgren, Melissa Murray, Hanan Abdul-Rahim.

Joining the Salem Circle... Nancy signs her name while ODK officials Dr. Cardwell, Dr. Farris, and Valerie look on.

High-tech and crazy... Tri-Beta Prez Hanan, vacuum in tow, helps out at the group's car wash.

Alpha Psi Omega is... Juliet Dyal, Sonya Bennett, Laura Dossinger, Vell Nordin, Mary Aleman, Chrissi Smith, and Dr. Nohlgren (Sponsor).

Quite the hit at WFU... Juliet's performance in Jimmy Dean stirred up excitement all over Winston-Salem.

Keeping Up the Standards

As three of the most influential - and busy - of Salem's student-faculty committees, the Academic Council, Library Committee, and Curriculum Committee kept busy at their respective duties of setting our academic policies, monitoring the quality and availability of Gramley Library's holdings, and planning all faculty meetings.

Intent on some academic subject... Nell and Dean Allen take a look at the matter at hand.

What the Library Committee is all about... Keeping students like Hanan happy with the facilities is important to the Library Committee.

Student representatives to Academic Council are: Lori Daniels, Michelle Bueso, Kathleen Healy, Drewann Lynch, and Nell Nordin.

Sharing vital info... Curriculum Committee chair Dr. Cardwell and the C E Rep Sue confer on some committee issue Making sure everything's in order... Technical Services Assistant Peggy Crater evaluates the library's card catalog.

Curriculum committee members are: front: Sasha Datta, Tammy Whitefield, Carolyn Garfi, Dr. Pate, Sue Kneppelt, Mr. Hutton; back: Dr. Simon, Dean Allen, Dr. Cardwell, Dr. Pubantz, and Dr. Borwick

Bringing in the Best

Faced with the challenge of bringing in the best, whether it be speakers, new students, or quality textbooks, these three committees went to work with vigor and enthusiasm. The Lectures Committee brought in such speakers as Suzan Shown Harjo and Dr. Robert Coles, while the Admissions Committee helped oversee Applicant Overnight during several key recruiting weekends. The Textbook Committee heard concerns over the book store and prices.

They go thattaway... Admissions Committee member Dr. Pate directs traffic during the Applicant Overnight.

The agony, the ecstasy... Elizabeth's - and all Salemites' - painful book-buying experience was soothed by the knowledge that Dr. Thrift had told the Book Store to shape up or to ship out.

The Textbook Committee includes... Tina, Tommy Tucker, Cathi, Dr. Miller, Dean Allen, and Tom Macon.

The Lecture Committee brings 'em In... Dr. Shearburn chats with guest lecturer Robert Coles, who spoke about "Women in Crisis."

New Director of Admissions revs up... Catherine Knapp, herself a Salem alumna, prepares to lead the Admissions Committee.

The Lectures Committee is... Front: Tonda Smith, Dean Farris, Nell, Steffan; back: Dr. Baker, Dr. Shearburn, Dr. Burkette, Dr. McAlister, Bonita, and Mrs. Jacobowski.

The Admissions Committee includes...Dr. Nohlgren, Mr. Jordan, Amy, Dr. Pate, Barbara Murray, Dr. Trask, and Dean Farris.

Alice in MTVland...as a Press Relations Intern for MTV Networks in Universal City, CA, Alice learns the inside scope of broadcasting.

Quote...

I really enjoyed the fact that I could dig deeply into one subject - for me, the Primate class - without other responsibilities. 'Monkey Business' was really interesting, something I never could have experienced at another school's program. Jan Term is a great opportunity.

— Jill Sallee
Class of '95

It's cold! Melissa, Amy, and Tara enjoy D.C., where Amy interned at the Shakespeare Theater.

Taking It all in...Laura, Kathy, Rita, Betsy and Lynn enjoy the sights and sounds of Florence, Italy.

Monkey see...Dr. Nohlgren and his Monkey Business class take a trip over to Bowman Gray's primate laboratory.

Jan Term Provides FAR AND AWAY The Best Experiences Yet!

Here at Salem, January is a month full of opportunity. During January Term students may choose to take a class or do an independent study, travel abroad or do an internship.

Some of the exciting classes offered on campus this year were Monkey Business, African-American Culture and Exploration of the Paranormal.

While some chose to stay on campus, others went abroad. Trips were taken to New York City, France, England and Italy. Many upperclassmen chose to experience life in the "real" world through internships. Students spent time with senators at the Capitol; one student worked with the Corcoran Gallery of Art, and another student did her internship with MTV Networks!

For those on campus, January was filled with activities such as Secret Lives of the Faculty, Ballroom dancing, quilting and hiking. Dr. Thrift also spoke about Salem's future. Overall, Salem's Jan Term was incredible!

Tic, tic, tic...Chenie, covered in protective garb, measures radiation during her minimester in Tennessee.

JAN TERM

What a view...Angela takes in all the sights of Salzburg, Austria while studying abroad.

Fighting for a cause...Jenny and Debbie spend January in the Capitol interning with lobbying groups.

"Can I play, or what?"...This African drummer keeps the beat going for the dancers

The African-American Celebration...Dinner, drumming and dance brought to us by "D." Smith's Jan Term class shows us the history of the African drums and gets everyone up and dancing.

Radiation and Rodents... Neil and fellow students at Oak Ridge Associated University observe a - yuck! - dissection.

By St. Pete! Elizabeth, Beth, Margaret, Katherine and Michelle enjoy St. Peter's Square in Rome, Italy.

A Perfect Combination

At last year's graduation, a final piece fell into place and ensured Salem's future success: Dr. Julianne Still Thrift, addressed the students as our newly appointed President. Along with Dean Allen and our new Dean of Students, Dr.

Farris, Dr. Thrift fulfills the hopes of many Salemites to see capable and inspirational women in the top administrative positions.

Meanwhile, the office of the Dean of the College has been flurry of activity. Supported by Martha Fleer,

Dean of Continuing Studies, our Adult Degree Program flourishes, and with the appointment of Dr. Borwick as Associate Dean, advising and Jan Term have taken on an energetic pace. Surely the best is yet to come.

The appointment of a female president does more for the morale of the student body than most people realize. Joined with Dean Annette Allen and Dean Cindy Farris, Dr. Thrift fulfills the destiny of Salem College: to provide models for young women who are searching for direction - and exceptional leadership as well!

- Karen Lewis, Class of 1992

Those ever-friendly faces... Dorothy Canady and Karen Booe, joined by their student worker Beth Partlock (center), keep the Dean's office (and the Dean) under control.

The Continuing Studies Office...is run by Vicki Sheppard, Tracy Jaekle, Janice Arrington, and Dean Martha Fleer.

Dean Allen and President Thrift... two of the best things Salem has to offer, stop for a quick picture during another busy day in the Inspector's House.

Serving the President... who serves us so tirelessly, Mrs. Delores Clarke sees that business in the Inspector's House runs smoothly.

"I woke up one morning and found I'd become Associate Dean!" Dr. Borwick was far more surprised at this recognition of his talent than the rest of us.

Whatta pal, Whatta Dean... Dr. Farris, forever our friend, joins Sonya at a Sophomore meeting .

Assistant Director of Student Developmental Services... Linda Nelson keeps busy in the Career Reading Room.

The Dean of Fun... Debbie Cates checks on some details for an entertaining program.

Student Services... Making it Great!

The door seemed to stay open, and inside was a flurry of activity. The new honchos in Lehman Hall - Dean of Students Cindy Farris - assisted in Student Developmental services by Peggy McAllister and Linda Nelson - have set out to make Student Services the most supportive and complete it has ever been, serving the whole student and the whole student body with exciting and innovative programs. Of course, Dr. Burkette, our chaplain, and Assistant Dean of Students Debbie Cates kept up with the hectic pace, doing more than their share to make Lehman Hall the place to be.

"Quotable Quote"

"I love the new Lehman Hall. Dean Farris and her crew are always ready to lend a helping hand. They helped me make it through the Sophomore Slump."

-Sarah Ivey, Class of 1994

Interaction with Salem students and staff... such as RHD Lee Fauber is one of Dr. Burkette's many ties to the college.

Another new face... Carol McLennan's superb secretarial skills and friendly personality keep Lehman hall running smoothly.

English and Communications

Blending one of the oldest with one of the newest, the departments of English and Communications focused on the written and spoken word as the means for discovering and creating new worlds. From reciting Shakespeare to pushing Shake -n- Bake, majors learned to appreciate the fine craft of language.

Laid back for once...Dr. Meehan stores up some energy as he prepares for class.

A happy reader... Dr. Zehr's choice of reading shows her dedication to advising majors.

Keeping up on current trends in education... Graduate professor Dr. Dan Wihnietsky and Dr. Russell discuss modern education.

Teacher Education

The highly respected Teacher Education program continued its tradition of training the best and the brightest to serve the public school system - and America - as teachers. Practicums, projects, group work, and - gulp - Student teaching were just a few of the delights they offered their candidates for certification, both traditional and continuing education students.

"And he sang as he sat and he waited 'til his billy boiled..." Dr. Baker is ready to go "Waltzing Mathilda" Down Under again!

Always such a good model... but Dr. Shearburn occasionally forgets her classroom presence and poof! there goes her posture.

Wrapping up after a long haul... Jim Bray, one of Salem's senior-most faculty members, takes his last group of student teachers through certification before retiring. Good luck, Jim!

Art and Arts Management

The Art Department consists of several different types of courses: Art History, Interior Design and Studio Art classes. Students involved in one of these majors, spend a great deal of time in the FAC, doing projects and studying slides in the Slide Room, looking at slides of artwork from around the world.

The Arts Management Department combines the visual or performing arts disciplines with related business skills. Students in this department spend time in the FAC, taking Art and Music courses and in Main Hall taking their management courses from Dr. Borwick.

Modern FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Francais, Espanol, Deutsch... Whatever the tongue, the Language faculty was there to translate, pronounce, drill, and recite for students of all ranges of talent - from the clueless Spanish 10

Le puff, le puff... Mr. Bourquin's trademark pipe keeps everyone on 2nd Main aware of his presence.

Freshman to the most advanced specialiste de francais. Foreign Language study opened up new worlds and exciting possibilities for Salemites, making the best of our world even better!

Difficile, mais... Dr. Cardwell's philosophy on le francais has challenged many students.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

They reminded us not to eat after 10pm, to quit smoking, to watch our fat intake, and to practice, practice, practice! They encouraged us to walk or sprint for a stronger heart and made sure we could customize an aerobic exercise plan. This department kept at us to keep getting better and, though we didn't always like them while doing that forty-seventh sit-up, our hearts beat a little stronger because of their dedication.

Dedication and hard work...make Coach Kelly Carpenter, here with her Field Hockey players, a favorite.

Three fantastic (and fit!) ladies... "Coach", Mrs. Tilley, and Mrs. Richards smile after a Fitness lecture in Shirley Auditorium.

"Coach" at the Economy Inn? There's no end to the sacrifices she makes for her Volleyball team (Yoko, Nancy, Steph, Jean, Carla, Candy, and Julie)!

Infinite fun...Debbie Harrell can easily calculate the enjoyment quota at the Community Picnic before Opening Convocation.

Seriously though... Mr. Burrows is straight-faced about his business.

"Yuck!!!" Melanie's not too sure Math 60 is everything she's ever dreamed about.

Aff keyed up... Dr. Ersoff practices what he preaches - computers are GREAT!

Please don't take that... These Math majors are worrying over Debbie's latest test.

MATH, COMPUTER SCIENCE AND ECONOMICS THE NUMBERS GAME

Ah, the game so many play...but so few really understand!

The Department of Math and Computer Science kept budding numerologists and computergeeks busy, solving equations and creating programs. With the addition of Dr. Sun, the Department just continues to improve - whether the majors liked the harder work or not!

And, for those business women and CPA's, the Economics faculty was there to explain, support, and still give unbelievable assignments! Who says we won't be ready to cut it in the ...you know where!

The Natural Sciences

What would the world be like without courses such as biology, chemistry, and physics? Ask any science major and you'll probably hear, "A whole lot easier!!" Nevertheless, Salem's science students get the job done and with great finesse. The Departments of Science prepare Salem students for the most challenging scientific fields, research, medical school, and teaching.

Have a heart, Dr. Nohlgren! Anatomy students, Debbie and Mary Catherine, prepare for an upcoming exam on the circulatory system.

The Departments of Psychology, Sociology, and Philosophy/ Religion...Answering Those

Questions on Life

The study of man's mind and his relationship with others, the social constructs those relationships form, and humans' search for meaning... Some of the most interesting and challenging programs that Salem offers take students on such a journey.

The departments of Psychology, Sociology, and Philosophy/ Religion claim many of Salem's finest majors and a lot of library hours! One thing's for sure - these students graduate with the knowledge and skills to answer life's questions.

Oh, rats! Psych majors Tracy and Debbie look forward to playing scientists with the cuddly creatures in the Experimental Psych Lab.

The School of Music...

A Touch of Class

The Salem College School of Music provides an array of learning experiences. It provides an intensive training program in performance and teaching. It is one of the oldest fully-accredited professional music schools in the country and has a great reputation for sponsoring events featuring internationally renowned artists. Many students also draw a crowd for their own recitals.

Salemites are fortunate to be offered majors in areas such as voice, piano, harp, violin, and church music, and music history, theory, and composition.

It's that Dr. Borwick guy again?! Yet another hat he wears is that of professor of composition!

Where everyone can be a star...Mr. Pegg directs the Salem College Community Choir.

Yowza!! Krissy's vocal recital wowed 'em all.

Two happy musicians... Mr. Pegg and Dean Lister-Sink are all smiles as they go about their work.

"Do - re - mi..." Katherine warms up with a few scales.

Book burning? Looks like Trish and Barbara are not too fond of their Senior Seminar text.

The Salem Staff

Toward the end of each semester, we flip through those academic catalogs and schedules in hopes that we can register for the right classes for next term. It's the Registrar's Office that arranges all of this for us - and holds our hands through wait lists, schedule conflicts, and drop-add. From there, it's over to Gramley Library we trek, to do research or study or just get some peace and quiet. The library staff is always there and willing to show us the way through the labyrinth of stacks our library has acquired.

Answering that telephone...Circulation assistant Sarah Angerer has many duties that keep her busy in the reference room.

Welcome to Salem... Admissions counselors Tammy Taylor and Amy Cass, Salem grads themselves, have a pleasant smile for prospective students.

Peggy Crater and Sarah, her student worker, have no time to spare as the library prepares for a new computer system.

The women we can blame for those eight a.m. classes... Registrar Diana Rymar and assistant Frances Dunn plan next semester's schedule.

Always cheerful, always willing to help... Director of Alumnae Affairs, Mrs. Doris Eller, maintains contact with Salem grads.

The old meets the new... Assistant Director of Alumnae Affairs Cathy Dupont gets together with Admissions staffer Sheila Elliott.

The Admissions office is responsible for recruiting the best new students for our college. Admissions counselors travel to high schools looking for just the right young women and correspond with them right up until Orientation begins in August. And with our new Director of Admissions, this year's Admissions team was breaking all the records!

After these students graduate, of course, they begin their life-long association with the Alumnae Office, which keeps track of graduates and informs them of activities on campus.

Sharing Salem's news with the world... The Office of Public Information is wo-manned by Sarah Hunter, new assistant to the President, Tonda Smith, manager of publicity, and Susan Arther, publications writer.

New Kids on the Block... Lisa Coe, new Director of Public Information, and Rachel Stiffler, new manager of media relations.

Taking care of business in the Inspector's House... Linda Grady assists Chief Business Officer Tom Macon in handling the school's money.

The Salem Staff

Building our future... The Development Office Staff includes Annette Lynch, Wanda Motsinger, Marie Marritt, Arlene Amoczy, Kay McKnight, and Amy Ferguson.

Making it possible for us to be here, these people deserve more than a round of applause. The Development Office keeps track of gifts and donations and works with the Chief Business Officer to plan for future fundraising. The Office of Public Information and Publications keeps the community aware of Salem's presence. The Business Office keeps accurate account records. The ever-helpful Financial Aid Office helps us find that needed money to finance our education.

Forever camera-phobic...
Financial Aid director Neville Watkins tries to avoid the flash but ends up merely looking silly.

The folks who cash our checks and more... Business Office personnel include Nikki Brock (seated), Helen McGuire, and Teresa Gandee.

Vroom, Vroom... Mr. Tilley's big wheels keep him busy beautifying our campus.

New Director of Public Safety... Tommy Owen directs traffic as freshmen move into their dorms.

The Wokery! ARA Food Services director Judy Harris is proud of this favorite addition.

The Salem Staff

BEHIND IT ALL

Making Salem the special place that it is takes a lot of effort! Just ask the Grounds-keeping and Housekeeping crews. They put in long hours of work so that we could have beautiful blooming flowers, clear sidewalks, clean bathrooms, and odor free halls! We never thought twice about the security officer who escorted us across campus during the wee hours or the FAC technical staff that made sure all of our entertainment went off without a hitch - but they were there. The ARA staff always made sure we went to bed with full tummies, and, particularly as epidemics raged, our Infirmary staff worked overtime to ensure that we were well cared for.

William is a regular Martha Stewart... when it comes to decorating the tables for Christmas dinner.

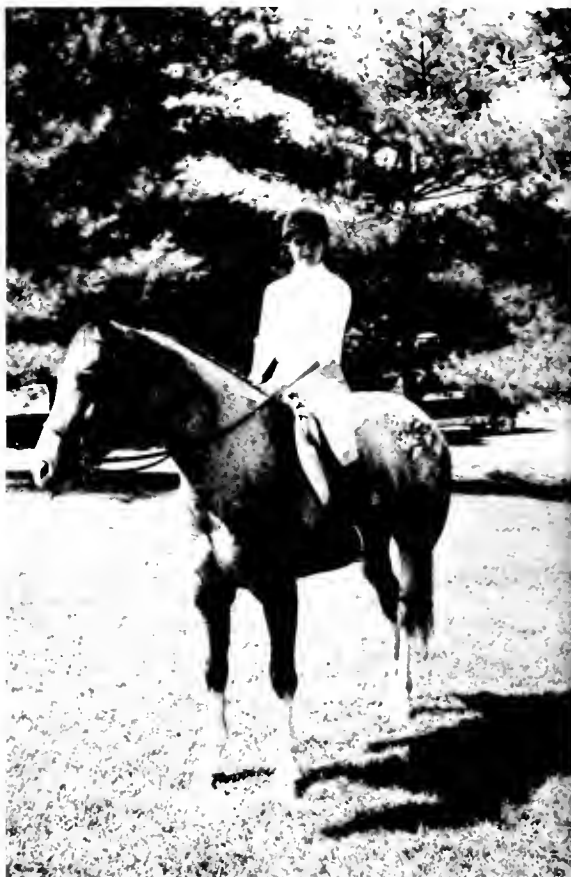

Thank goodness that's over... Brent LaFever, FAC Tech. Director, is very relieved after finishing recording some School of Music students.

Homer talks to a "Mr. Maintenance" ... about his busy job of keeping Salem's campus safe and thug-free.

Taming the - uh - wild stallion? Maybe not, but Equestrienne Liz looks proud anyway.

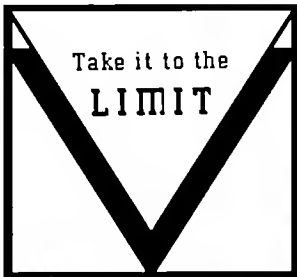

Up to their necks in it ...Swim team members get more than their feet wet at an early practice

Sports

Rising to the challenge in '92

Ice packs, ace bandages, Right Guard... Speedos, field boots, knee-pads... Intensity, determination, team spirit... These are the tools of the trade, the essential elements which make Salem sports stand out from the rest. And this year our athletics were determined to...

What strange tales they can tell... Betsy, Spaz and Shelly are forever the Field Hockey team's backseat jokers.

Checking out the waves... Coach Laura Richards keeps an eye on the pool.

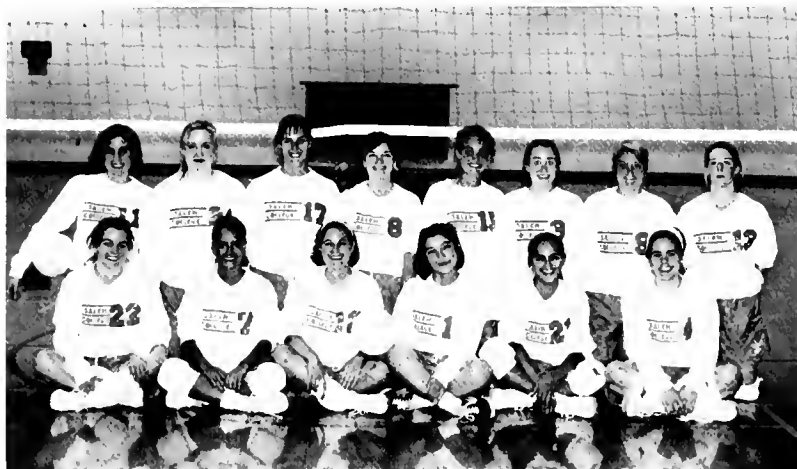

What a set-up! Nancy and Stephanie practice the VB moves.

"And I'll buff, and I'll puff..." Andrea is determined to get through Cross Country practice.

VOLLEYBALL

Bump! Suzi waits for the perfect moment to move in on the ball.

Set! Right, Ivey goes for the volley.

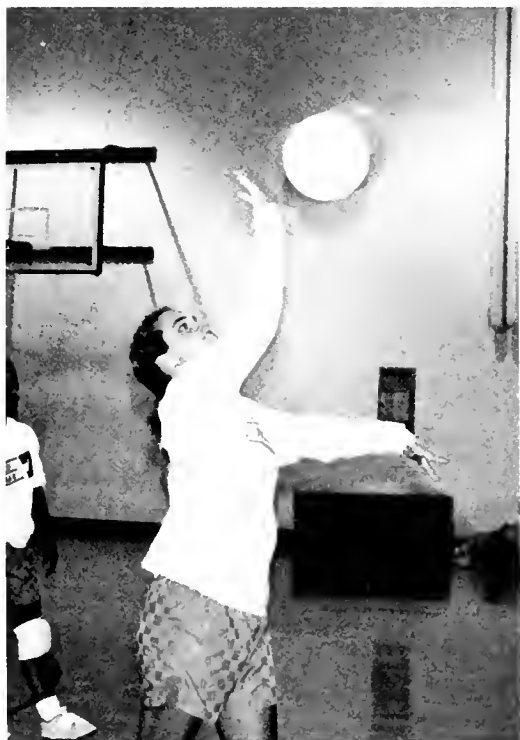

Volleyball Team Players:
front: Julie Tierney, Ivey Clontz, Jean Williams (Captain), Yoko Ebihara, Ana De La Parra, Carla Jimenez; back: Britt Biggs, Nancy Lloyd (Captain), Suzi Russell, Stephanie Crone (Captain), Gretchen Nachtigal, Mary Barclay Churchill, Julia Garrison, and Candy Bass. Not pictured: Cary Clayton, Coach McEwen, and managers Amanda Long, Jennie Moore and Alice Peschl.

Spike! Candy leaps and slams the ball into her opponents' court.

Gotcha... Gretchen's got her hand eye stuff ready at practice.

This year's Volleyball team was privileged to have three great captains. Jean Williams, Nancy Lloyd, and Stephanie Crone provided excellent leadership on and off the court. Jean has played for three years and Nancy and Stephanie have played for four.

Jean's past experience is evident in her ability to produce a great set, regardless of the pass. Her strong example is uplifting and encouraging for all those around her. Stephanie's power-packed hits, great serves and incredible hustle have won many a close point. Nancy, otherwise known as "The Big Kahuna," is famous for her sizzling spikes. Her serves have also been known to leave opponents lying flat on the floor. These three captians led this year's team to a second place trophy at the Women's Colleges Invitational, where Nancy (along with Sophomore Ivey Clontz) was chosen for the All-Tournament Team.

From setting to spiking to serving, these three will be greatly missed. But their long hours of hard work, dedication, encouraging smiles and handshakes will always be with us.

Of the four senior field hockey players pictured above, the four-year veteran among them is Betsy Gianini. She has been a starter since her freshman year, when she received the award for Most Improved, which she followed up with the Sportsmanship Award her junior year. Despite several injuries, Betsy has remained one of the team's strongest players, even being named, along with two other Spirits, to the All Tournament Team at Sweetbriar this year. Her skill is matched only by her enthusiasm and dedication, which have encouraged many a tired and dragging teammate. Her leadership has done the team proud, and she will be sorely missed... but the echo of her yell, "Salem, sticks down!" will continue to ring out loud and clear.

Jump back, Allison... Things are starting to get tricky.

FIELD HOCKEY

The Field Hockey Team is: front row, Shelley Fisher, Carolyn Garfi, Paige Niles (Co-Captain), Allison Bruce, Gracen Glenn, Spaz Thomas, Susan Johnson, Sally Johns (Manager); back row, Laura Beth Henry, Aimee Price, Laura Franklin, Emily Estes, Betsy Gianini (Co-Captain), Coach Kelly Carpenter, Sarah Woody, Nelie Cole, Britt Lawrence, Catherine White, and Sarah Williams.

Road trips make us a little crazy... The Field Hockey Team tries to fight that van-phobia with good humor.

Fight for it! Catherine and Emily heat up practice.

Block it up! Aimee and Betsy are gettin' busy with their sticks.

A familiar figure on Salem's campus, Melissa Murray is often spotted in her tan jodphurs and riding boots. Her dedication to her sport is well known - after all, she has been on the Equestrian Team for four years and co-captain for the last two. It's not always fun and games, though: Melissa has found herself riding inexperienced horses to help with their training... or jumping fences with no reins or stirrups to help with her training! Regardless of these somewhat strange and precarious experiences, Melissa has been named Champion and Reserve Champion for her division in quite a few shows. A great equestrienne and an encouraging leader, Melissa will be missed this spring as she graduates and rides off into the sunset. Happy Trails!

Practicing those jumps... Val knows she can count on her horse, "Count on Me."

The Equestrian Team includes... front: Nell Nordin, Melissa Murray (Co-Captain), Recia Pharr, Chryssi Manos; middle: Susan Combs, Margaret Lamm, Julie Smith; back: Tara Newton, Valerie Wickersham.

Taking that fence in a single bound... Melissa and Brass are top-notch as always.

THE EQUESTRIAN TEAM

Cross Country

After the race...Michelle, Mary Lawson, Shelly, Meredith, Mona, Mrs. Richards (and baby), English, Key, and Michelle take a breather.

Puff, puff, puffing along...Shelly keeps up the pace.

The Cross Country Team is... front, Mona Elkabani, Shelly Williams, Key Whaley, Michelle Bueso; back, Mary Lawson Stephens, Anne Harvey, Meredith Snellings, Michelle Graham, English Hopkins, and Cindie Burnette.

The line up... begins, and our runners look ready.

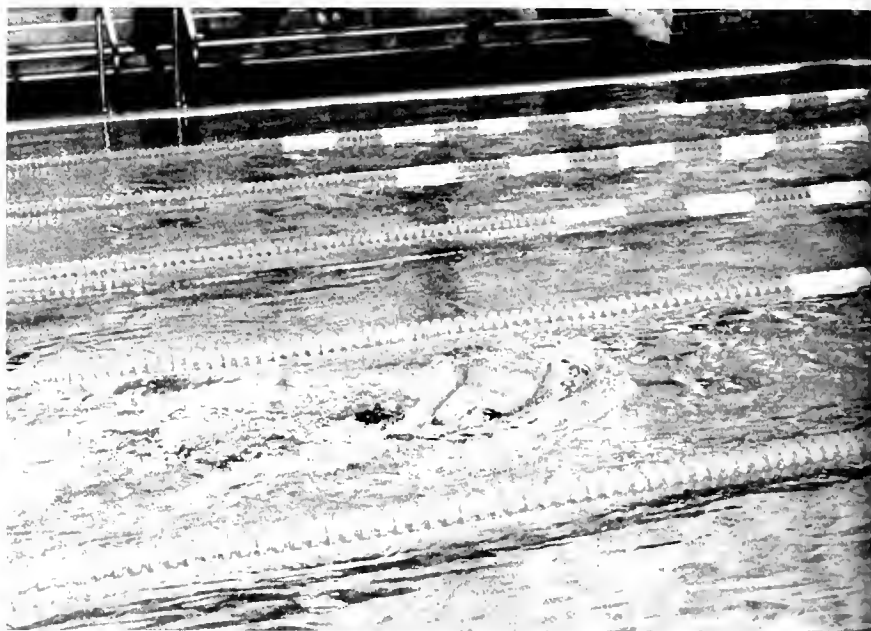

Giving it all they've got...above, Michelle, Meredith and English turn on the steam in the solitary runs.

How often do Salemites get up before 7:00? How many have already exercised by 8:00? Do the names Mary Lawson Stephens and English Hopkins ring a bell? They should. These Co-Captains of the Cross Country team are so dedicated that they run every morning before breakfast and again at 4:00 with the team!

A second year veteran of Cross Country, Senior Mary Lawson has a great attitude for Salem sports. She has been in one sport or another since her freshman year. Her Co-Captain English Hopkins always seems to have a running tip for just about all aspects of the sport. She's a very encouraging captain with great hopes of a fast season as a senior!

*Melissa and Allyson... Girls
- how many does it take to count to twenty?*

Kim makes a splash for Salem with her competitive start off the block.

Allyson takes off for a "relay" good finish!

ennifer pulls through another long 500 race with style.

Margaret and Danielle relax after a tough breast stroke sprint.

SWIM TEAM !

SP-IR-IT! You got the spirit! Uh-Huh. Let's hear it - OK! This was the rallying cry led by Swim Team captains Ann Pollard and Mona Elkabani to inspire speed, endurance, and above all, sportsman-like spirit in this year's team members. These two swimming veterans and Coach Laura Richards (with carry-along Ben!) continually encouraged all of the swimmers to be proud of their numerous victories and especially of their hard work.

Ann has swum for three consecutive years at Salem. She is a super freestyler and back-stroker. Her spirit and enthusiasm has benefited the team tremendously.

Mona has been on the team both of her years at Salem and has an awesome butterfly!

Together these co-captains willingly gave out pointers and compliments and kept the team smiling. Thanks!!

Jennifer King has become a familiar face as well as a valuable asset to Salem's Tennis Team over the past four years. A leader, an encourager, and a tough competitor, Jennifer has served as captain for 2 straight years. During her sophomore season, Salem's Tennis Team was undefeated. Despite the obvious talent on the team, Jennifer even beat some of her own teammates and won the fifth seat in Salem's Tournament. That same year, she received the Sportsmanship Award. Jennifer also received the Most Valuable Player award her junior year. Jennifer King has undoubtedly left her mark on Salem's tennis program. Her valuable leadership and talent will be greatly missed come May!

Bottom, Freshmen Gracen and Jennifer stretch out before another afternoon of practice.

Two of this year's three captains, Jean and Nancy, put on happy faces.

Players prepare for practice with some routine warm-up exercises.

A full season of games keeps Nancy on her toes.

For Jean Williams and Laura Franklin springtime at Salem means soccer balls, shin guards, and dirty cleats. Both Jean and Laura have been valuable members of Salem's soccer team for the past four years.

With their experience and talent, they led this year's team as two of the three captains. They have both received the Yellow Rose Award. Jean received the Most Improved Award her Freshman year and the Sportsmanship Award her Junior year.

As building blocks for the soccer program, Jean and Laura have left their mark on Salem's soccer field and in the hearts of her players.

CLUBS

and Organizations

Salem's long list of clubs and organizations gives us lots of choices:

student government,

hearts that...

publications, service clubs, social groups... Whatever we did in '92, we knew in our

"I think someone's snitching my liquor!" Heather criticizes Betsy's bartending as they work the CAC Dance.

Is it Michelangelo or Donatello? No, it's just Turtle fan Father Bob, sharing Campus Ministry cheer - and balloons!

Reviewing "This Week at Salem..." Allison and Angie check out the week's events.

The Executive Board ensures all student government groups are functioning according to their set constitutions. The Exec Board also acts as the link between students and the administration. This year they started up a new Traditions Committee and sponsored open forums, a reception for the student-faculty committees, and the second annual Christmas Bonfire! Exec Board members are: seated: Allison Burkette (Sec), Jennifer King (VP), Charla Vlaservich (Treas); standing: Debbie Bruce, Angie Shotts (Pres), and Beth Murray.

Student Government: MAKING THE BEST OF OUR INDEPENDENCE

The Student Government Association encourages new ideas, promotes growth and progress and preserves the revered traditions of Salem College. With its major policy-setting and enforcement organizations - Exec Board, Honor Council, and Interdorm - and its four committee arms - EFB, Leg Board, Pub Board, and the new RHA - our SGA puts muscle into our constitutional right to self-govern.

Surrounded by Exec Board... Betsy is flanked by Beth, Debbie, and Angie.

The Legislative Board is the largest part of the SGA, and acts as a liaison between students and the Executive Board. Any request for changes in policy at Salem are introduced by Leg Board. It is here that petitions can be discussed and organized groups can become active clubs. Leg Board members as pictured are: front: Latanya Gary, Karne Stansfield, Melanie McRae, Anita Brinkley, Dawn Darby, Jennifer King (chair), second Leigh Murrow, Charla Vlaservich, Valerie Wickersham, Allison Burkette, Allison Bruce, Erin Gaden; third: Michelle Graham, Steffan Hambright, Nancy Georgitis, Kimberly Williams, Margaret Pike, Beth Murray; back: Tammy Allen, Meredith Snellings, Nell Nordin, Hanan Abdul Rahim, and Angie Shotts

The Executive Finance Board acts as an adviser to the treasurer of SGA. They study the financial operations of each club and act on requests from organizations for money. Fundraisers are also approved by EFB. This group also sets the budget for the following school year. Representatives are: Shelly Williams, Tammy Whitefield, Charla Vlaservich (chair), and Shan Woolard.

Honor Council is the group that upholds an admirable Salem tradition. The Honor Code is a promise made by every Salem student, and the Honor Council deals with the students who violate any part of it. Honor Council is: front to back: Debbie Bruce (chair), Cain Williams, Beth Murray, Kendra Jones, Nancy Georgitis (sec), Angie Shotts, Sarah Woody, and Kate Hargett.

WORKING TOGETHER TO MAKE IT BETTER

Babcock House Council promoted dorm spirit and community awareness with white water rafting, chillin' with Ice P (aka Dr. Partin), and adopting an elderly care home.

Back: Mandy Eckberg (pres), P.J. Smith, Amanda Long (sec/treas), Laura Lail (RHD), Shan Woolard, Julie Smith; front: Suma Raju, Sarah Marsh Dunn, Cary Clayton, Jennifer Pratt, Heather Nelson, and Andi Clark.

Gramley's House Council sought to enlighten and entertain with a car maintenance program, a dorm picnic, a Halloween party for the Children's Home, and by attending the hot air balloon rally in Charlotte.

Front: Lisa Findlay, Jo Amos (sec/treas), Jill Saltee, Charlie Derbigny, Shirley Southerland (RHD); second: Leigh Murrow (pres), Shannon Sides; third: Dana Mallory, Kendra Jones, Lori Daniels, Alice Peschl, Nancy Georgitis, Andrea Rossi.

Strong House Council created "strong" unity with a Mary Kay party, a softball game and cookout with Sisters, and a pumpkin carving party. House Council members: Lee Fauber (RHD), Stephanie Stroud (sec/treas), Elayne Thornburg, Michelle Graham (pres), Dena Free, Kristen Miller, and Sarah Ivey.

Pumpkin heads.... Key, Dena, Michelle, and Sarah introduce Tian-ang to the joys of carving pumpkins.

Ugh! Laura teaches Babcock residents stress relief techniques.

Interdorm takes care of coordinating many of our dorm activities including visitation weekends, educational programs, and recreational activities. They also have the pleasure of hearing and deciding all the dorm infractions against campus policies. We commend them on their hard work this year!

Clockwise: Beth Murray, Leigh Murrow, Angie Shotts, Mandy Eckberg, Michelle Graham, Melanie M'Rae, Latanya Gary, and Margaret Pike. Not pictured: Beth Godwin and Debbie Bruce.

Up, up, and away... Rachel, Shan, Lori, Charla, and Shirley enjoy Gramley's trip to the balloon rally.

The new Residence Hall Association members include: front: Betsy Gianini, Margaret Pike (chair), Ann Dyer, Cain Williams; middle: Dana Mallory, Gwen Brennan, Jo Amos, Ashley Goldstein; back: Allyson Armstrong, Rita Herring, Jill Sallee, and Kelly Sharpe.

Enjoying that wine? Amy and Christiane prepare for a fabulous night ahead at the first CAC dance. at Sisters' pre-dance party.

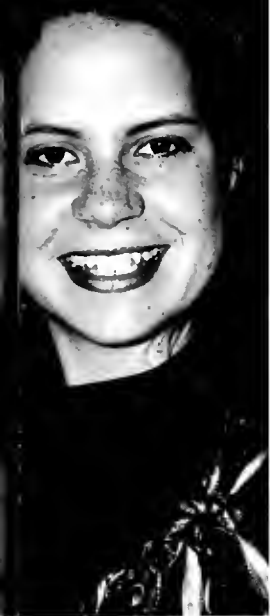

SUCCESS AT LAST

Success...Ah, what a feeling! We've finally found what we have been looking for for some time - a way to bring all the dorms on campus together. The Residence Hall Association was created to promote and sponsor activities between all dormitories on campus. The organization consisted of a chairman and representatives from each dorm.

One of RHA's biggest projects was entitled "Adopt a Hall." The halls in each of the upperclassmen dorms were paired with a hall from an underclassmen dorm. These "teams" worked together in all RHA functions including recreational games and scavenger hunts. Hats off to the women behind the creation and implementation of this new campus organization!

"The experience of being in a small dorm is very enlightening, heart warming, and busy. Bitting has such a warm and secure atmosphere that we all feel so close, we share a bond."

-Beth Godwin, House President

Bitting House Council: Mary McLarty, Betsy Mebane, Janice Tuttle (RHD), Beth Godwin (Pres), Mary McCinnis (Sec/Treas), and Jan Marriot.

"I love the cohesion of a small dorm and the fact that we work more as a dorm than as separate halls. I also have more control and input in dorm functions."

- Jennifer Aber (Hall Rep)

South House Council is... Noomina Al Mamun, Melissa Robinson (RHD), Jennifer Aber, Mary Aleman, Drewann Lynch, Karrie Stansfield (Sec/Treas), Terri Smith, Latanya Cary (Pres).

"Sisters is so special and feels more like a house than a dorm. There is so much tradition here that I feel privileged to be apart of it."

- Amy Williamson
(resident)

Sisters House Council is... Wendy Nace (RHD), Melanie M'Rae (President), Cayden Plowman, Melissa Murray (Sec/Treas), Laura Beth Henry, and Signe Berg.

Representing THE BEST OF SALEM

Such a mysterious symbol... The statue, which is often the object of much speculation, is back after a curious absence.

Smiling faces for Salem... Mary and Mrs. Eller keep the Ambassadors in touch with Alumnae.

We still don't know where they hang out... but now we know what the Scorp hangout looks like! Tara, Anna, Jean, and Val don't give too much away in this picture.

A warm welcome... Fremdendienerin member Stacy goes out to greet her perspective before the Overnight begins.

FREMDENDIENERIN...

In a year when recruiting new students has been a major goal, Fremdendienlerin has been busy helping Admissions give tours and host perspective students.

The members in '92 are... front to back: Anita Brinkley, Chrys Manos, Laura Dossinger, Jane Fisher, Amanda Long, Drewry Wills, Gretchen Nachtigal, Beth Andrews, Spaz Thomas, Rebecca Grubbs, Laura Beth Henry, Julie Smith, Heather Nelson, Jennifer Face, Shan Woolard, Sherry Mendenhall, Cherie Norton, Melissa Murray, Shelly Williams, Allison Burkette, and Charla Vlaservich.

THE AMBASSADORS...

As always, Salem's Alumnae played an important role in college affairs, and the Ambassadors were there to keep them informed about campus events.

THE ORDER OF THE SCORPION...

A secret organization devoted to promoting Salem spirit without seeking recognition for its individual members, the Order of the Scorpion quietly put those extra "littlesomethings" into their fellow Salemites' days. The '92 Senior Scorpions are... back to front: Anna Harris, Laura Neese, Jean Williams, Tara Newton, Juliet Dyal, Valerie Wickersham, Latanya Gary, and in absentia, Barbara Harris.

IMPROVING SOCIETY

Circle K is a volunteer organization for the Salem College community and the Winston-Salem area. This year the club worked with the Children's Home, by setting up trick-or-treating around the dorms. Some of the Circle K members also helped in the soup kitchens, plus the club ran a canned food drive. At Christmas time an Angel Tree was put up in the Refectory and gifts were given to the surrounding area's needy children.

Back: Betsy Barber (pres), Tina Gutshall, Brook Robertson, Amy White, Anne Green, Dawn Darby, Shannon Smith, Chenie Bell; front: Deana Bass, Moliye Krueger, Karrie Stansfield, and Carolyn Garff.

Being a caring community, Salem created the Alcohol and Drug Education Council. This group is for the education of the Salem community about the hazards of drug and alcohol abuse. This council hosted National Alcohol Awareness Week activities for the college, plus sponsored lecturers, a few get togethers with mocktails only and their annual fun-filled carnival in the spring.

ADEC: front: Suma Raju, Mandy Eckberg, Beth Murray, Lee Camp; middle: Ashley Houston, Chenie Bell, Ashley Goldstein; top: Amy Williamson (chair), Drewann Lynch, Steve Wright, Allison Burkette, Tara Newton, Anita Brinkley.

The Environmental Concerns Organization is improving our natural habitat. Several members attended the N.C. Big Sweep and cleaned up 75 bags of garbage from around Salem Lake. The group also developed a recycling program with Maintenance, Debbie Cates, and Winston-Salem. "Garbage is not something you throw away. There is no such place as away. Disposal is a myth..." Victory in '92!! Republicans Deanna and Anne are confident that their candidates will fare well this year.

"I love America!" Brook's enthusiasm is catching as she leads the Democrats in lobbying, marching and campaigning for their political concerns.

We, the People

These three politically-oriented groups allow Salemites to actively pursue their ideals for our country's government and policies. Whether it was through lectures, rallies, or courses on rape awareness and legislation, we were able to express our own views and explore those of others.

Serious about CREAPS...Greta reviews a program proposal for their lecture series.

The Committee on Rape Education, Awareness, and Prevention began educating Salemites this year by sponsoring speakers on topics such as date rape and self-defense courses.

CREAP members include...front row: Leah Petree, Stephanie Crone, PJ Smith; back row: Paula Dutton, and Greta Cassidy (founder and chair).

Keeping the Faith

This year Salem's Presbyterian group joined the Methodist organization, the Wesley Foundation, for double the faith and double the fun. Together they have sponsored Salem at the CROP Walk, had a beach retreat, and participated in the North Carolina State Student Conference.

Wesley includes... front: Stewart Ellis, Melissa Murray (Pres.), Tara Newton, Johnnel Hunter; back: Cindie Burnette, Rev. Leslie Sladky-Hillman, Anne Redding. Not present: Anne Tucker (treas), Marty Suttle, Tracy Whitefield.

The Baptist Student Union welcomed back Penny Hazen, their campus leader, from being on sabbatical. The BSU held informal discussions at Rainbow News and Cafe and combined with other campus religious groups.

BSU includes...Cathi McKay, Ashley Houston, Katherine Garner, Steffan Hambricht.

Faithful Fellowship

Campus Ministry Organizations allow students to "keep the faith" even though they're away from home and their home churches. Led by dedicated men and women from local religious organizations, Salem's students can get together for fellowship, friendship, and fun.

The Wicked Witch of Wesley? No, it's prez Melissa, all decked out for the Salem -WFU Wesley Halloween party.

"Who is it? Could it be...uh...SATAN?!", BSU member Steffan asks humorously while Ashley looks on.

Opening Doors...BSU president Katherine, who spent Jan Term on a mission in Tanzania, is dedicated to opening doors for her faith.

The religious student associations act as a service and support group for Salem students and are open to everyone. Generally these groups meet weekly for food, fellowship, and fun. The Catholic Student Association, Episcopal Student Fellowship, and Intervarsity Fellowship took part in retreats, intercollegiate fellowships, devotionals, and activities with the Religious Life Council.

Friends make it better... Palmer and Shelly enjoy an Episcopal Students retreat with a nature walk and picnic.

InterVarsity members Mary, Katherine, and Cathi get together to discuss their Jan Term activities.

It's BATMAN! Father Bob moonlights as the crime-fighting caped crusader.

Carla looks like she has something to say... Any secrets about the CSA advisors?

Keeping the Faith

Catholic Student Association maintained its involvement with Our Lady of Mercy Church and campus ministry at Wake Forest while keeping things fun and informal around campus. Members of CSA include... Michelle Arnoczy, Betsy Sheehy, Gayden Plowman, Julie Tierney, Leigh Camp, Sally Johns, Carla Jimenez, Leslie Howard, and Jean Williams.

Episcopal Students got together twice a month to discuss current issues in their lives, particularly THE FUTURE as it loomed before their senior members. Food and friendly fellowship made their meetings a real treat - and Father Bob's unconventional style kept them on their toes! Episcopal Students include: Key Whaley, Shelly Williams, Palmer Brown, and Amy Williamson. Not pictured: Margaret Williams, Father Bob McGee.

Beyond the Dorm...

The Salem College Coalition works to promote open communication between traditional age and continuing education students.

The Salem Coalition is...front row: Steffan Ham-bright, Emily O'Brien, Tara Newton, Melissa Murray; back row: Frances Dodson, Kristy Griffin, Tammy Allen, Catherine Marks, Sue Knepfelt.

The Salem Recreation Association promotes events and activities related to sports, athletics and recreation. SRA also plans intra-mural athletic events between students and faculty.

Members include...front row: Cary Clayton, Kimberly Moore Williams; back row: Margaret Pike, Joey Klontz, Laura Franklin (chair), Jennifer King, and the one and only Coach McEwen.

The Salem Business and Professional Forum promotes events to raise student awareness of career opportunities in the business world. This year the forum organized various career lectures and visited the Hitachi plant, RJ Reynolds and Stroh's Brewery.

SBPF members include...Bannner Gregory, Dr. Holderness, Angie Shotts.

Bringing CEs and traditional students together... is what these Salem Coalition members, Amy, Emily, Jennifer, and Stacy, strive for.

Becoming involved in extra-curricular activities at Salem is easy and fun. Not only do Salem's many clubs allow the chance to meet fellow classmates, but also people outside of campus. Traditional and non-traditional students work together as part of the Salem College Coalition. Athletic students enjoy the competitive mixing of SRA, while the more career-minded students in the Salem Business and Professional Forum investigate what the future job market might hold.

"We'll just see about that!" SRA sponsor Coach seems pretty skeptical about Mary Barclay's plans to win the international volleyball championship solo, even with the aid of her expertise!

Reviewing a SBPF proposal... Kelly, Angela, and Michelle hold a quick lunch meeting.

Getting more involved on campus... OCA helps CEs like Jeanette and Linda, here at the induction into Phi Alpha Theta, make their mark at Salem.

At the Onua-sponsored Halloween party... Latanya does her share of the hostessing duties by serving drinks.

A little bit of culture... Dawn enjoys the African dancing and drums celebration held during Jan Term.

Bon appetit! The International Club trip to the mountains provides Cathi, Mr. Steiner, Tina, Mara and Amy with a - well - foreign meal.

Unity in Diversity

The members of Onua work to promote black awareness and to give service to Salem College and the community. This year Onua sponsored a Halloween mixer and lecturers on such topics as Biblical Black History during Black History Month. Onua members include... front: Amy White, Charlie Derbigny, Latanya Gary; back: Dawn Darby (pres), Karrie Stansfield, and Rachel Miller (VP). Not pictured: Sonya Bennett, Leah Petree, Armina Swittenberg, and Deana Bass.

Salem's Off-Campus Association works to inform day and continuing education students of campus activities and opportunities that are available. Any day student or continuing ed student is permitted to be a member of this organization. OCA includes... front: Carolyn Murray, Amy Robertson (pres), Kristy Griffin (VP); back: Bianca Boykin, Tammy Allen, and Vera Hodges.

The International Club strives to foster the interest of Salem students in international affairs, foreign culture, and study abroad. This year some of their activities included a foreign film night during Jan Term, a trip to the mountains, and an international dinner. International Club members include... front: Betsy Barber, Jennifer Aber, Carolyn Garfi, Anne Green, Hanan Abdul-Rahim; back: Liz Butler, Christiane Kipphan (pres), Noomina Mamun, Tina Gutshall, and Mr. Steiner.

Pitching in for the fundraising effort... Sights & Insights staffer Latanya sells senior class pictures to support the yearbook.

Gettin' busy... Salemite co-editorship keeps Betsy on her toes.

"Wanna join 'Inky-binky'?" Terri and Drewann make the sales pitch during Club Day. At far right, Jill perfects her paste-up skills for the yearbook.

Extra! Extra!

The three Publication staffs and their SGA governing body, Publications Board, put that extra effort into making '91 an extra special year for publications. Extra hours, extra dedication and extra planning combined with a few extra headaches for extra ordinary results.

Publications: Exceptional Extras

Even through staff changes and some growing pains, The Salemite brought us the news, views and snafus of '91-'92 with style and finesse.

Ever-diligent, the Sights and Insights staffers put in the long hours necessary to preserve the memories of a year of exciting changes.

Even under new management for the first time in three years, Incunabula still maintained high standards for their collection of literary masterpieces.

Publications Board, made up of the six editors, class reps, the Campus Coordinator and two SGA officers, oversees the finances and progress of the publications.

More fun than humanly possible... Betsy and pal (and three beers!) live it up at the Twin City Club during Interclub.

"Yeah, that's right, I'm legal." Melanie McRae says, "Gimme that over age armband so I can 'Paint the Town Red'!!"

Do you know the two ways to spell fun? Big 3+3 and CAC!!

Big 3+3 started the year off with a Fall Lawn Party featuring New Potato Caboose. Next, Salemites "got down" at Interclub's "Shake Your Bootie" Weekend. The fun continued with the first on-campus Winter Formal in the new Salem Commons and the IRS weekend in April.

CAC provided us with such entertainment at the "Paint the Town Red" dance the 70's Rock Extravaganza, a magician during Jan Term and a comedian.

Do these women know how to have fun or what?

The Bright and the Bold... Mary Lawson, Kim, Jan, Laura, Palmer, Banner, Jennie, Susan, Mary, and Lara enjoy "Shaking Their Booties."

How we spell fun!

Big 3+3 gave us many exciting dances this year including our first in the New Student Commons!

Big 3+3 is... from bottom to top: Elizabeth Bennett, Kim Moore Williams, Mary McGinnis, Susan Combs, Gracen Glenn, Aimee Price, Rebecca Grubbs, Beth Hoppin, Jan Marriott, Ann Dyar, Amanda Long, Allison Bruce, Kristin Epting, Amy Woodard, Tammy Allen, Mary McLarty, Laura Franklin, Amy Warren, Sherry Mendenhall, Jen Face, Tammy Whitefield, Banner Gregory (Chair), Lara Lovingood (Co-Chair), Margaret Pike, Sarah D'Alonzo, Mary Black, Cherie Jones, Ann Marsh, Jen Kintz, Neeli Cole, Melissa Brown, Oliver Traywick, Katherine Edwards, Paola Gomez, Catherine White, Britt Lawrence, Michelle Conley, Jenny Britt, Mary Lawson Stephens, Cary Clayton.

Campus Activities Council (better known as CAC) sponsors on campus entertainment and social events from parties and dances to mixers and special performers.

CAC members include...

Our Arts Awareness Ensemble

Each year, April Arts reserves a special week in April to exhibit the art, music, literature, dance, dramatic and cinematic works, photography, and crafts of the students and faculty.

April Arts includes.. Back row: Noomina Mamun, Tina Gutshall, Brook Robertson, Joanne Chen, Mollye Krueger, Sonya Bennett, Juliet Dyal, Francesca Biet; front row: Dilnavaz Davierwala, Mary Aleman, Terri Smith, Cathi McKay, Leigh Camp, Nell Nordin, and Sarah Ivey.

Archways is a student-run chorale group which has become famous for its medleys and Christmas concerts.

Not pictured: Paige Niles and Larnie Yuson.

Art Club aims to enrich the cultural awareness of Salem Students through shared group experience in the visual arts. Each month, the Art Club organizes, designs and posts beautiful calenders of art events in North Carolina.

Jennie, Anne and Shelly reunite after Christmas break to discuss future art programs.

Arts Awareness

Salem College is fortunate to have a gallery that exhibits many artists. The Art department and art/music - related clubs have helped support and promote the Arts on campus and in the community.

The Art of Performance

What a great year for the performing arts! Dansalems, Salem's elite dance troupe, wow'ed everybody at their Spring Concert and proved that we can always soar higher than we imagine. The Pierrette Players again produced two outstanding stage performances - Three by Chekov in the fall and a musical look at Sondheim, entitled Side by Side by Sondheim in the spring.

On her toes... Dansalems' early morning rehearsals keep Laura and the other gals slim and trim - and ready to reach for the sky.

Dansalems stayed in the groove and got everybody dancing with their remarkable dance performances. This year's members are... front row: Cain Williams, Amy White, Juliet Dyal, Laura Neese; back row: Anne Redding, Tammy Whitefield, Ashley Goldstein, Debbie McMahen (President).

Pierrettes continued to use creative and unusual pieces for their stage productions and upstaged the competition for another year of exciting shows. Pierrettes include...front row: PJ Smith, Sonya Bennett, Laura Dossinger; back row: Sarah Ivey, Krissi Smith and Hannah Ashford.

The cast of Three by Chekov...includes some new faces (yes, those are men - they're from WFU) as well as the familiar stars.

The Great Planners

The Elections Committee is here to help elect students to positions in Salem's SGA and the many budgeted organizations. Counting ballots and doing absentee ballots keeps them very busy.

Members include... front row: Tracy Whitefield, Tara Newton (Chair); back row: Debbie Bruce, Sarah Williams, Angie Shotts, Beth Hoppin. Not pictured: Lori Daniels, Greta Cassidy, and Rachel Brooks.

The Exam Committee is in charge of organizing and distributing exams. Every semester they make sure that our exams run smoothly. Despite how much we dread exams we are so glad for what they do.

The Exam Committee Co-Chairs are... Debbie McMahan and Cain Williams.

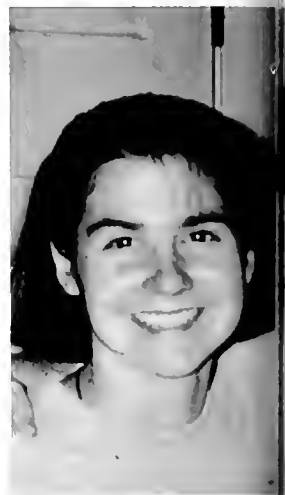

The Family Weekend Committee put on Parents Weekend in the Fall. This weekend was designed to give the students and their families time together and the families the opportunity to see the many changes that have occurred here on campus this year, such as our New Student Commons.

Members of the Orientation Committee were the first Salemites the Class of 1995 met upon their arrival here in August. This committee worked long and hard to help welcome the freshmen to our campus.

Bringing families together for a spring visit... is what the Family Weekend Committee work so hard for.

On the campaign trail... Candidates prepare for their speeches during the March SGA elections.

"Welcome to Salem!" Allison and Laura are ready to greet the Freshmen.

Making Plans

These four student-run committees were hard at work, ensuring that some pretty important events went off as planned. The Orientation Committee helped get new students into the swing of things, while the Exam and Family Weekend Committees prepared for days of excitement and suspense. The Elections Committee kept the candidates in line and the ballot box safe from would-be stuffers.

*Puppy Love... Anna and Buffy.
Dr. Farris' spaniel, exchange loving sentiments.*

Ready and Set...Helaine, Wendy and Andrea grin for us at the CAC Dinner Show.

Blue Heaven...Lisa and Betsy make the most of their Fall Fest.

Who's leading?...Val and Al ham and jam in #2.

PEOPLE

Smiles are what you'll see as

Salem women
"mug" for the cameras. After all, aren't we living the best college experience around? No
frowns here, just happy, smiling faces.

Sittin' pretty...Liz offers us a serene smile.

"Ain't Salem great?"...Big and Little Sisters Anne and Ann are arm-in-arm on Clewell Patio.

Yes, you!... Rachel accepts the unavoidable and makes the best of it -- FLASH!

SALEM

The Freshmen Class Officers are: President - Meredith Snellings, Vice-president - Mary Black, Treasurer - Hannah Ashford, and Secretary - Lyn Marino.

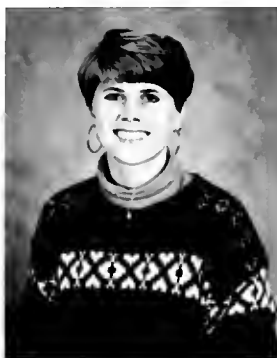

Salem Spirit... These Freshmen quickly seize the spirit at Fall Fest.

TO THE CLASS OF 1992

We share a very special kind of love

Because we share so many other things, too--

Happy memories, precious dreams...

Little everyday discoveries...

Private jokes that no one would understand.

We know each other's strengths and vulnerabilities,

And how to make each other happy

We even think alike in a lot of ways, but not

About everything... Just enough to make life

Interesting between us.

I'd say we make a pretty good team, you and I.

And I wouldn't trade what we have together for anything

In the world.

-Diana Manning

CLASS OF 1992: EXCELLENCE

We began a blind journey into womanhood. Would we make friends? Would we gain the Freshmen 15? We pulled through it all.

Freshman Year...Freshman Mixer.

What a blast!

We're on the loose! Solem women hit the town.

In the spirit... Gayden and Allyson are in character for Sophomore/Senior.

SOPHOMORES

The tornado opened our eyes and changed our lives. Sophomore Slump... Sophomore/Senior. We chose majors and said good-bye to our "big sisters" and some cherished faculty.

Stirring up fun... Melanie wants your vote for 24 hour visitation.

IN THE MAKING

JUNIORS

There's no turning back now. Salem, Sweet Salem. Now we have Little Sisters to care for. Are we really that old?

Fiesty at Fall Fest... As Juniors we gathered for yet another day of fun, fun, fun!

Celebration... Monica, Shelly, and Key get festive for the start of their Senior year.

"Sisters"... Always.

SENIORS

Our journey is almost over. Looking back we can see the trials and tribulations of our past years at Salem. We leave Salem with a new understanding of the world ahead. The best of the best!

Beginning to end... Beth and Debbie have been friends from the start.

The Best of Salem

The first days... Opening Convocation... Freshman Mixer... Fall Fest... The Tornado's Wrath... Christmas in Old Salem... Big Sis - Little Sis... Dance Weekends... The Senior Year! Four years at Salem have passed before us, and with each new day has come new memories for us to treasure. The days have faded quickly, but the memories continue to become more and more precious. The events of the last four years have had a great impact on our lives. From them we have gained the knowledge to face life's challenges. The world awaits - ready for us to conquer it!

Class of 1992

It's up, up, and away... Gramley's House Council trip to the hot air balloon show was uplifting!

Good roomies and even better friends... Melissa, Al, Val, and Tara show how happy they are to be together.

1992: The best year yet

... Or does it? Salem's proven tradition of progress keeps change a constant, so that we're always looking for ways to improve upon our time-tested formula. The best does get better - we prove it every year!

"We haven't lost it!" Marty, Amy, and Tina still enjoy that youthful balance.

Makin' the best of a pratty day... Ashley and a classmate sit with Dr. Booth in the square during a lull in the Fall Fest activities.

"Ta-da!" Dawn, Sonya, and Amy strut their stuff at the Quua Halloween Mixer.

Here, on this campus...

...surrounded by this beauty...

...we have discovered the joy of others...

...and, most important, our own dignity.

Just a few statements regarding discussions we have had in the past years:

1. Don't wait for your ship to come in, row and meet it.
2. Choose a profession you love and you will never have to work a day in your life.

Michelle, I want you to see things that are and say "why?" But I want you to dream things that never were and say "why not?" It is your destiny to succeed.

We love you,
Dad, Mom & Elissa

CONGRATULATIONS ANGELA SHOTTS

Love,
Mom and Dad

Melissa Jeanne Murray

It has been a joy watching as you blossomed into a beautiful, respected, and multi-talented young woman who lives life enthusiastically. You set lofty goals and challenged yourself to achieve them. We admire how you handled the "rains" in your life and reached for the "rainbows". As you graduate and begin a new phase in your life, our hearts are filled with pride. We see you achieving success with:

Deep roots of character and commitment on which to stand,
Broad wings of a solid education on which to soar and
The ability and determination to reach your dreams.

Love always,

Mom and Dad

Through the years and through the tears you've been there for me with support and encouragement. No matter where our careers lead us, our hearts will keep us close because you are not only my sister, you're my friend.

Love,

Jim

You captured our hearts from your very first day. We've watched you grow from an inquisitive toddler to a knowledgeable young lady whose heart is full of love and compassion. The world is a better place because there are special people as wonderful as you. God bless you always.

We love you very much,

Grandma and Grandpa

Sarah D'Alonzo

*You made us three
And how we loved to see
You scooting across the floor
For 21 years it's been pride and joy*

*Major events - the first boy, the first prom, the first car,
And before long, admission to the bar
A lofty ambition,
A family tradition.*

*From college to law school you'll transfer,
But today we have our family philosopher.
And as achievements mount down the line
Remember that we love you 'S' times.*

We're cheering for you, "Annie Poo"!

Congratulations, Anne Tucker, and best wishes from your favorite cheering squad - we love you!

Congratulations, Tara!

Your hard work, dedication, desire to excel, and willingness to give of yourself has paid off. Your understanding and compassion for others has always made you special to us and the many people your life has affected. May God continue to bless you in all that you do, and may your goal always be to please Him. We love you very much and are very proud of you and your accomplishments.

Congratulations! We love you, Key, and are very proud of you.

Love,

Mom, Dad, and your brothers, Preston,
Billy, Shayne, and Chris.

Mells -

Thank you for 3 wonderful years! I'd never have made it without you!! Too many memories to record, but never forget them... we've shared so much... Here's to many more memories and long talks... You deserve all the wonderful changes in your life and much more to come! I'll always be there, never be afraid to ask.

Love,
Tarabelle

K. L., Melephant, Amesola, Tarabelle, Lizbo, Melissa, Christiane and all my other great Senior friends:

Congrats! I'll miss you!!!

Love,

I would like to thank my tried-n-true staff members, whose love/hate relationship with publications mirrors my own:

To our energetic first-year staffers, Nell, Latanya, Betsy, Cary, Anita, Deana, Brigid, Cathi, Katherine, Signe, Hester, Jill, Michelle, Anne, Lizzie, and Beth - thanks for helping the best get better!

To my trusty two-year pillars of pica perfection, Sarah, Shan, Alice, and Gwenster - we sure have come a long way! Your dependability and reassurance helped make SGI '92 a reality. To Tara - you put yourself on the line not once, but twice for our dream (or was it a nightmare?!). We wouldn't have made it without you. Thank you, friend.

And, of course, I want to salute my Sisters sisters, especially the original Gramley Girls. It's been quite a ride, hasn't it? Thanks for sharing it with me!

Finally, this yearbook, the product of a wonderfully chaotic labor of love, is respectfully dedicated to Becky Pack-Moxley, without whom it would not have been possible.

I hope that each member of the Salem community enjoys SGI '92 as much as I've enjoyed putting it together. A truer labor of love I'll never undertake.
